Our Sebring labor day event was hampered by foul weather both days.

Just when we thought it was safe to resume, there would be ANOTHER lightning strike.

At the BOG meeting the following week, there was a large discussion on how we can keep our workers and racers safe as we do live in the lightning capital. We are updating our weather equipment and discussing at what point to resume racing. We may not be able to control the weather but we can control whether to race or not.

The district meeting at Quaker Steak and lube was much improved with some sound deadening and the area all to ourselves. Personally, I would like to thank all our attendees who have hung in there during this transition. I am constantly reminded that our members like to part of the solution and are willing to help in many ways. It makes my job as governor so much easier. Thank You.

District 3

Fran Martin

Rossi's Pizza was the site of District 3’s regular monthly meeting and Gov. Bill Martin updated the attendees on the recent Sebring races as well as BOG happenings. RE Rick Balderson, RBC Robin Langlotz and Treasurer Greg Bennett were also in attendance to answer additional questions.

Our September Regional/ECR on the long course at Sebring was well attended but our luck with the rain gods ran out. We had to shorten the Saturday ECR Enduro and lost the last three races on Sunday not so much to the rain but to the very close lightning. It just wasn’t safe for our workers to continue standing out in the storms.

On line registration is again proving to be popular. By the October event, we'll be accepting credit cards and for drivers who register on-line, look to pay a little bit less on your entry fee for that event. You drivers who stay with paper will get to pony up a few more bucks. We’re looking to improve the link to DLB Racing for on-line registration on our web site but that's still in the works.

All our SARRC events next year (2007) will be held at Sebring. The four events will be in February, June (double SARRC) and October.

Our schedule of activities is really ramping up as we are supporting some Indy Car testing & have a Driver’s School in September at Daytona; support the Porsche Club event in Daytona & have a long course event at Sebring in October; and support the HSR event at Daytona & have our usual Turkey Trot event at Sebring in November.

There’s something of interest for everyone so please contact a Chief or Governor if you are interested in working – even for just 1 day…don’t be a stranger.

See you at the races!

We have moved the meeting place and now meet @ Uno’s just off I-75 on Dainels Parkway.
Although it only reduces my time from Port Charlotte by a minute or two; the response has been great! We had 16 District 8 members (plus one from the Florida Region) attend.

At the meeting, which was held just after the Board of Governors meeting the previous Sunday gave me the opportunity to get everyone up to speed (pun intended) on what was discussed. Here are the highlights:

Starting with the Oct.21/22 event at Sebring, on line registration will accept both credit cards and Paypal.
Registration forms will not be printed in the Checker. If you need to mail your entry in (?), call the Registrar to get the form.

Robin Langlotz (Race Board Chair) has promised “a surprise” coming for those in Race Groups 4, 5, 6 & 7 which had their race cancelled at the last Sebring event due to the weather. He didn't provide any details.

Next years Drivers’ School @ Daytona has been moved from April 21/22 to May 19/20.

The Enduro which attracted 105 entries will have a format change from a 3 hour single event to a 1 1/2 hour event for two run groups.

The BOG elected to install new electrical drops @ Sebring from the drive over bridge left towards grid on the green paddock area. No time frame was set.

John Woessner has submitted the required paperwork necessary to run for Lt. Governor of District 8. For those of you who don't know him by name, you know him if you race a car in CFR as another of the great Grid Crew that Sammi has put together.

And finally, CFR now has 2,735 members of which at least 100 or so live within the boundaries of District 8. Come on out for our next meeting and meet others from the District. Next meeting is scheduled for Thursday Oct. 12th @ Uno’s. See ya there!

CFR Hall of Fame and Elections

Members need to submit names for the CFR Hall of Fame to their District Governors. Russ Smith, Sammi Ronshausen and Bob Sieck are still the committee members and will be sending a ballot to all eligible voters in October.

Election time for the even numbered districts will be here before you know it, so now is the time to start thinking about it.

Anyone interested in running for governor must be nominated by 5 members of that district, in writing, signed by the members making the nomination and delivered to the secretary by 60 days before the annual meeting. The same rule applies for Lt. Gov.

Dear Checker Editor,

As race drivers and part time workers for the Central Florida Region, we wanted to say a few words about the weather events that occurred during the Labor Day Members Memorial race weekend.

As much as the drivers in the Enduro and groups 5, 6 and 7 were disappointed about not being able to complete their races on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, we have to conclude that the Stewards of the Meet made the right decision to cancel those races. We understand that the decision was a difficult one to make as our region prides itself on sticking to the race schedule, but we must keep in mind that our volunteer corner workers’ safety and the safety of all participants and their crews involved is what is most important.

We in Florida live in the lightning capital of North America. When foul weather approaches it is imperative that we get the corner workers to the safety of their vehicles. Many of them are out in the open and are often the tallest objects in the area-perfect lightening rods. Also, many are stationed near the metal armco which is a perfect conduit for electrical energy. They do their jobs without complaint when it is hot, cold or wet because they enjoy the sport of auto racing. They are a breed apart and all regions across the country are having difficulty recruiting and training new workers. As such, the workers that we do have are stretched thin and often over worked. How many of these dedicated individuals will continue to return to work our race weekends if we put their lives in danger due to weather and our desire to race, literally come hell or high water? They are, in fact, the most important members of our club because without them on the corners there would be no racing.

We’d also like to thank the stewards for the manner in which the qualifying sessions for both groups 4 and 5 were handled. The split line up on the grid for group 4 qualifying helped both the faster and slower cars get hot laps in without too much interference from one another. We, as production drivers in group 5, were ecstatic at the decision to decide the split start order based on the fastest qualifying times in the group. Finally production was able to be the first group to take the green flag on the split start.

In closing we say to our fellow drivers, be kind to the corner workers. They are there for our safety. Don't forget to tell them that their efforts are appreciated. A wave during cool down laps and a pat on the back at the social on Saturday night goes a long way in letting them know how much we appreciate what they do for us and the club.

Sincerely, Bill & Tricia Rose, EP Volvo #18

Rick,

Let me first say that I was stunned, shocked and amazed by your generosity at the August Double SARRC. We always hear about all the complaints about the stewards, and none of the good stuff, so I thought I'd let you know how much I appreciate what you did for my "situation".

I'll be the first to admit that I was clearly "upset" when I went to the stewards room to find out what I had done wrong (especially after having to pull all 4 tires in my nomex with 10 minutes until qualifying, and drowning in sweat!) and while I don't think I was rude, I'm sure I wasn't extremely pleasant also, so kudos to the stewards who had to deal with me while I tried to figure it out.

I have been racing long enough to know that the protest system works, but I felt I had been tried and convicted before I was informed of my "crime". I will do my best not to "throw anyone under the bus", but since we missed each other at the track, I'd like to fill in a few blanks for you.

In my brief cruise down pit road, I spoke with 3 people. One of the 3 was apologetic, but had no answer as to why I was not allowed on the track.

"Sorry, I'm just following orders from the tower" was the least hostile answer I got. Apparently, I had broken a rule that was not written in the GCR, nor posted in the Supps. After parking, I went to the stewards room to find out what I had done wrong, and had 2 people be extremely nice, but had no answers. I then went to the CSM (I think) whereupon I was questioned as to why I was late to the grid, and why I was questioning the Stewards call to not allow me on the track because I was late for qualifying. I'm sorry, but this had no relevance as to why I was being punished, and my final answer from the person in charge was "I don't know, I didn't make the call, so you'll have to ask him, I can't do anything about it. He has issued an RFA, so come back at lunch". Maybe the CSM was having a bad day...

Sorry, this was supposed to be a positive letter. So... after being informed of my infraction at lunch, I filed my protest, and went about my day.

(Here's where it gets good). I am called to testify, and the SOM's were very polite, asked questions without accusations, they stuck to the facts, and pointed out areas where I had possibly made mistakes. All in all, they were extremely professional, and I am proud to have each of them as stewards in CFR. I would name them, but I don't want to sound biased just because they eventually ruled in my favor. They let me go racing, and told me to come back when I could.

When I returned, they said that they had ruled in my favor, and that since they could not give me back my qualifying session, they all offered their sincerest apologies and we all shook hands.

For me, that was all I had been asking for, as we all make mistakes, but their sincere apology made this whole ordeal go away. Please thank them again for me for their professionalism in this matter.

I had put this whole thing behind me, but on Sunday, you all took the apology to another level!!

I have raced all over the SEDV, and have never even heard of another region doing what you have done to make things right for any member. This was above and beyond what any other region would have done for one of its members, and is just another reason why we should all be proud members of CFR.

Since I couldn't do it myself, could you please pass on my "Thank you all so much!" to all who were involved with this. After my initial meetings with the officials, I was shown nothing but courtesy and respect from everyone involved, and your response to "make things right" was nothing less than outstanding, to say the least!

You have renewed my faith in the system, and will pass this faith on to all the members I know.

Feel free to read, or send this to anyone you wish.

I look forward to meeting you in person at the next event. In the meantime, please let all your stewards know that we all appreciate what they do.

Respectfully,
Mark P. Larson, #83 G Prod

Lost jogger heard city life, couldn't connect
Sarah Lundy | Orlando Sentinel Staff Writer
Posted September 6, 2006
Eddie Meadows thought he was taking a shortcut through some nature trails when he got lost for four days jogging in a swampy area near the University of Central Florida.

“I'm just an old runner who went out and made a really dumb mistake,” Meadows, 62, said Tuesday as he sat in a wheelchair with an IV in his arm at Florida Hospital Orlando East.

The father of two spoke publicly for the first time about how he wandered through woods for four days until he was found on Labor Day moving in thigh-high-deep mud about 400 yards from Neptune Drive.

To survive, the 145-pound Meadows said he drank swamp water, slurped rainwater off leaves and ate various grapes and leaves, including some that tasted like cloves and wintergreen.

Meadows, who was training to run a marathon, had suffered cuts on his hands and dehydration that led to acute kidney failure.

By Tuesday, his doctors said his kidney functions had returned to normal and he could leave the hospital today.

“My hands are all tore up, but I feel...”
8 October 2006

great," said Meadows, wearing a hospital gown and tan socks. Ardis Meadows, his high-school sweetheart and wife of 40 years, stood behind him with her hand on his shoulder.

Meadows, a contract employee with the U.S. Army Program Executive Office for Simulation, Training and Instrumentation, didn’t mean to cause such a fuss when he went out for his usual 10 mile run at lunch Thursday. The Army office is on the grounds of the Navy’s training and simulation installation at Central Florida Research Park, next to UCF.

Meadows -- who had eaten a cinnamon-crunch bagel and orange juice that morning -- ran through the research park and up to UCF’s stadium before he headed back. He had spent more time than he had planned running, so he tried to shave some time by cutting through what appeared to be a trail.

However, it ended, and Meadows was not sure where he was or how to retrace his steps. Each attempt to get out only landed him deeper into the woods.

“You don't know where you're going if you don't know where you are. . . . That was my situation," he said.

Using a broken stick, he cleared a path as he wandered for hours. At dusk on the first night, Meadows heard the UCF band practice and headed toward the music.

"Unfortunately, they didn't practice long enough," he said, chuckling. "They started to quit when it started to get dark."

Later that night, a helicopter with a searchlight flew over him, shining the light in his eyes.

"But I was in such foliage that he couldn't see me," Meadows said. "I hunkered down and waited for daylight to come up."

He spent Friday, Saturday and Sunday trying to find his way out. He attempted to use the sun as a guide.

Meadows knew he was close. He heard dump trucks, car horns and the UCF band again playing.

“The most frustrating thing was that I could hear civilization around me the whole time . . . You are so close to civilization, but you can’t communicate with it," he said.

That's why he is so thankful for everyone who didn't give up and continued to search.

Ron Eaglin, 43, a jogger and UCF professor, is familiar with the swampy area and volunteered Monday to help search with friends.

About 10 a.m., Eaglin heard Meadows sloshing in the distance.

“Are you looking for Eddie Meadows?” Eaglin recalled yelling.

“I am Eddie Meadows," the answer came back.

Meadows said this experience taught him about the power of others' kindness and the importance of being able to reach help in a crisis.

“I'll never go running again without a cell phone," he vowed.

RE Report

Attention in the Paddock

Recently, we’ve had some issues with the Website. And as I’m sure most of you know, when you try to change things, even little things, the results are not always what you had in mind. That is certainly the case here. Let me assure you that we are working on this as hard as possible.

Our recent Sebring event, in addition to being Hot, it was Wet, very wet. Most of us were thinking that since the storm had passed us by, the only rain would be the regular 20 minute shower that we've all come to expect.

Unfortunately, that was not to be the case. On both Saturday and Sunday afternoons we were forced to shut down and stop operations.

With 310 competitors for an ECR/Regional weekend, one can only think that CFR is doing more and doing it better.

It was really too bad that the weather could not cooperate.

Be assured, next years schedule will be different.

Congratulations and thank you to everyone involved for their hard work and efforts.

At the recent CFR BoG meeting it was announced that, shortly, the region will be accepting credit cards and pay-pal for entry fees. It is the Regions' desire to maintain our policy of Not depositing your money until after an event, and implementing this policy has slowed down the set-up process a bit.

As I've mentioned in the past, the spec tire rule (SM, IT-7) discussion was again on the table and will be on the table again when the RE's get together at the SEDiv meeting on Jekyll Island in January. CFR, Florida Region, and Atlanta have already voted against having spec tires, the Chiefs' of Scrutineering voted spec tires down. The other 15 RE's voted FOR the spec tire in regional racing, and so SEDiv has a spec tire rule. Go figure, the 3 regions, CFR, FLA and ATL that account for more than 70% of the racing involved with this issue.

And certainly the tech guys are tuned into what the competitors want.

I am saddened that we are doing business in the chat room as opposed to the board room. Having received only 3 or 4 e-mails on this subject, leads me to think we are on the right track….Having fewer rules is better.

Carol Cone, the ECR administrator, announced that the ECR series would NOT be having a spec tire.
Considering the unwanted influence from the northern portion of SEDiv, CFR and the Florida Region have agreed to evaluate changing the competition boundaries between areas 3 and 12. This would be similar to the CENDiv split last year. This would have a profound effect on SCCA in the South East.

In moving forward on this issue, I have spoken to both of the SCCA Area Directors who were directly involved with this decision and I am in the process of reading the notes regarding the procedure necessary to implement a change such as this one.

This is one very big step, with lots of consequences, so, please be sure to let me know how you feel about this very important issue.

Mike Flynn, at Irish Mikes Racing has signed on as the major sponsor (again) of the CFR Annual Awards Banquet in Venice on Dec 1&2. District 9 is hard at work making this event a happening, so please plan to attend. And Thank You (again) Mike.

The kitchen at this Holiday Inn is well above the usual hotel quality, if nothing else, you need to come over for the desert tray.

In addition to the awards banquet, the Region will be holding its annual meeting. This is your opportunity to have input into the operation of Your club.

Did I mention the open bar? Please be responsible and request the SCCA room rate from the hotel.

Our Executive Steward, Fred Schmucker will be stepping down at the end of the year, and we thank him for his many years of service and welcome his replacement, Rick Mitchell. Rick is an excellent choice for the SEDiv Executive Steward, and CFR looks forward to working with him to make our programs better.

Our next CFR event should be pretty exciting. Race will be on the Long Course using the Green Park club paddock, and Solo will be in the area before turn 17 where we grid when we use the 12 Hour side. Following Saturdays events we will be having what should be a fairly good sized social at the CFR compound.

Be sure to attend, as this portion of the weekend does not require any license or money.

Membership Report

Joyce Hayward, Membership Chair

As of September 1, we have 2,735 members. I have studied the anniversary dates of the members and they range from the year 1955 to the present. An interesting fact is that in the eight months of 2006, 439 joined our Region. The total who joined in 2005 was 415, and in 2004 only 260. If the trend continues this year we could have 2800 members by the end of the year.

I attribute the popularity of our Region to two important activities, Club Racing and Solo. We offer a year full of fun activities for anyone interested in motorsports; we do it well and we do it safely. We are fortunate to have two famous race tracks to race on and very good sites to hold our Solo events. Let’s not forget the wonderful group of Volunteer Race Workers so dedicated.

This year we have had some serious illnesses among our members and we’ve had some tragedies too. The RE asked me sometime ago to act as the Regions “Sunshine” person. In the past 8 months, I have sent out a few get well baskets and a few sympathy ones too. And lots of cards. If you hear of anyone in our CFR family that needs a boost of sunshine, please let me know.

At the end of the year, I will be sending out longevity pins and badges to 5 yr., 10 yr., 15 & 20, etc. Here are nine members with the oldest anniversary dates. If you see any of them please give them our congratulations and thanks.

DA’RULES: We all like to be inventive and work to build a better mousetrap. However, there are times when we have to stick to the rules. SCCA has very definitive flag, signal and communications rules. Rules are rules and need to be followed at every track across the country. This is important for drivers who run on various tracks in and out of region and division... and for workers who work different tracks. Do some regions handle things slightly differently? Yes, and it behooves you to check track protocol and flag usage at any new track. This saves you from saying things like ‘red’ instead of ‘crimson’ and getting yelled at out of region. Do we sometimes break the rules ourselves in what we consider emergency situations... again, yes. But when you’re training new workers, do try to teach them by the SCCA book to give them a correct foundation. By and large, if you follow SCCA flag and signal protocol, it will make it easier on you and everyone else. SCCA is very specific about things like standing vs. waving yellows, white flags and all the general rules... and for a good reason. You should be able to go to any track, anywhere and know exactly what to do. Suggestion... to brush up on the latest rules, go to the SCCA National web site to get a copy of the rules. Go to the home page @ www.scca.com, click on merchandise, click on publications and you're there. For club members, a copy of the F&C manual is $7 and it's well worth the price. Or, I have a copy in PDF (3.9 MG or in zip form, 3.2MG) currently residing on my computer. Drop me an email (sunnyday@infionline.net) and I'll forward a copy to you.

This isn't just for Flaggers or Corner Workers - Drivers, this might be a good reminder for you to have as well. A quick laminated 'cheat sheet' card for brush up... now do the car number signals start at the wrist and work up or vice versa?... is available from the Flag Chief at the track, if you don't have/would like one.

SAFETY FIRST AND ALWAYS: Whatever your specialty, never lose sight of the fact that you're at a race track with big equipment and powerful cars. Car parts can be replaced, most of your parts can't. Drivers and Rescue people can get distracted and come too close. A momentary slip and your well being may be threatened. On the Corners, a car can go out of control or have a mechanical problem in an instant. Flaggers have to be facing each other to be able to look both up track and down. They must be ready to get themselves and their partners out of harms way immediately. Grid and the Pits face the same things. Injury can come out of nowhere and a car or its driver can suddenly be out of control coming at you. You must remember at all times to stay really alert... and drivers must as well. Don't let the emotions of the moment blind you to the well being of those around you in cars or afoot. This is our hobby, our sport and our passion - keep it safe for all.

NEAT IDEA: This is something I've thought about and 'meant to do' many times but was reminded of it when I worked with Dave and Debbie at Daytona. At almost any track, it's often difficult to get the attention of folks manning the 'outpost' positions or responding to a disabled vehicle 'way down track - and sometimes it's tough to attract the attention of the Corner Captain with lots going on. The Dynamic Double D team had a small air horn... easily carried and just as easily heard. When you heard it, you immediately knew where to look and it really helped. So many of our stations are so spread out and the territory we have to cover is large, something like this would be great. Perfect example at Daytona is Turn 5... it's a field trip to rotate from one position to another. Even at Turn 6 where we were working, Dave and Debbie working safety could get our attention for incidents that wouldn't be seen even from the elevated flag platform. Another thing of note - the flag platform at Turn 6 has been changed. It's a bit lower and getting into and out of it posed some serious problems. We spoke to Flag Chief Hooker and by Sunday morning, track personnel were there and some changes were made... with more to come. Good work by all, getting us prompt response to a problem.

HAIL TO THE CHIEF: please remember to respond promptly to your letter from the Flag Chief. Scheduling workers can be tough and the sooner the Chief knows, the faster it can be done. The Chiefs do a great job for us... both overall and on each corner so let's help them all we can. Respond to their letter or register online and you might even get the corner you request!

THOUGHTS FOR THE DAY: All too often we rush through our days without really living them... and we tend to put off the good stuff until we have 'time.' Recently I came across something that really made me smile...and ponder. "Think of all those women on the Titanic who passed up dessert at dinner that fateful night in an effort to cut back. My lips have not touched ice cream in years - and I love ice cream. It's just that I might as well apply it directly to my stomach with a spatula and eliminate the digestive process. The other day, I stopped the car and bought a triple decker ice cream cone. If my car had hit an iceberg on the way home, I would have died happy."

'Til next month... May there always be a little ice cream in your lives and if life is not always the party we hoped for...while we’re here, we might as well dance!

Technology and Business:

The recently launched Aston Martin V8 Vantage has been hailed as the savior of one of the quintessential British marques. In fact the car is not as British as it seems: Aston is part of Ford and the Vantage engine is made in Cologne, Germany.

Ford is the latest in a long line of owners of the company famous for producing the cars of choice for James Bond and the Prince of Wales. It was founded in a London garage in 1914 by Lionel Martin and Robert Bamford, deriving its name from the hillclimb at Aston Clinton, and the principal backer's last name.

In 1922 Aston Martins competed in the French Grand Prix and set world speed and endurance records at Brooklands. Martin left in 1925 and the next year a number of rich investors took control. Throughout the 1920s and 1930s Aston Martins were handmade for wealthy owners who indulged in motor sport. In 1947 the company was acquired by the engineering tycoon David Brown, who merged it with Lagonda, a small sports car manufacturer. This heralded the golden era of the marque and the introduction of the legendary DB series with the DB2, which boasted the now familiar sleek lines and Lagonda's 2.6 litre engine.

It was followed by the DB4 and continued with the DB5 - James Bond's car - in 1963. In 1972 Brown sold to a Birmingham-based consortium that in 1975 sold to two American businessmen. The Americans produced the original V8 Vantage and the convertible Volante but sold to CH Industrial, which passed the company on to Automotive Investments in 1983.

One year later the company was sold to businessmen Peter Livanos and Victor Gauntlett before Ford ended the game of 'hot potato' and bought 75% of the company in 1987, acquiring the rest six years later.

Company car drivers in the UK are more than twice as likely to be caught speeding as other motorists. A study of 100,000 company car drivers showed one in six were captured driving too fast last year, compared with just one in 10 of all motorists.

This means the UK's 2.7m company car drivers are paying out at least £26m (~$48m) in speeding fines every year (based on the lowest fixed penalty charge of £60, ~$111), according to the study by LeasePlan UK, a vehicle leasing company.

It may be their minds just aren't on the road; in a separate study by Lex Vehicle Leasing only 36% of company car motorists said they concentrated solely on driving while at the wheel. More than half (55%) use hands-free mobile phone kits.

Watch your Kellogg's cereal boxes for Ford Fusion toy cars. 600,000 will be given away.

A new "multi-function torque converter" for automatic transmissions has been developed by Germany-based LuK GmbH & Co. oHG. The new torque-converter design promises to improve fuel economy in the Environmental Protection Agency's city cycle by up to 6.9% simply by disengaging itself from the driveline during idle and going into "lockup" mode faster than a conventional torque converter during acceleration. LuK is in discussions with four OEMs in North America and two in Europe. Because of industry lead times, the earliest it could see production would be 2010.

Failure to design in quality is expensive. Ford Motor Co. spent almost $4 billion in warranty costs last year - about 3% of its 2005 revenue, says Reale, based on U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission data. Overall industry warranty claims reached $13 billion in 2005.

Ford Motor Co.'s upcoming 3.5L DOHC V-6, dubbed the Duratec 35, has room to grow to 4.0L or can drop down to 3.0L. It will power the upcoming Lincoln MKZ sedan and Lincoln MKX, Ford Edge and Mazda CX-9 cross/utility vehicles, will be used in a variety of upcoming Ford, Lincoln and Mercury products. The new engine will be built at Ford's Lima, OH, plant, which underwent a $335 million overhaul in 2003 as part of the auto maker's flexible manufacturing scheme.

GM has dozens of highly successful alliances with other auto makers. Besides NUMMI (Toyota), it also is collaborating with BMW and DaimlerChrysler on a dramatically new hybrid-electric propulsion system. Additionally, GM also has successfully partnered with Ford and Chrysler to develop and manufacture transmissions.

'Big Brother' car insurance operations are being tested in the UK. Young drivers can save 40% on their car insurance if they agree to be home before 11pm and don't mind their insurer keeping tabs on them. More Than insurance will offer the discount to drivers aged 18-25 who agree to have a telematics system (a black box containing GPS tracking and wireless communication technology) fitted to their cars. If the vehicle is driven between 11pm and 6am they will be charged an extra £2.50 (~$46.25) per night. According to the insurer, young drivers are twice as likely to be killed or seriously injured in a car accident between those hours. It plans to recruit 2,000 volunteers between 18 and 25 years old as part of a trial of the new technology. Norwich Union was the first British insurer to use an in-car telematics system and GPS tracking. It is running a trial "pay as you go" insurance for young drivers, monitoring when they drive and charging a different rate per mile depending on the time of day.

Another UK inroad into automotive freedoms has been announced. A new government-backed system that would force vehicles to observe speed limits using an engine limiter is set to create controversy.

The Intelligent Speed Adaptation (ISA) device includes GPS and mapping to identify speed limits in any location. Last week it was demonstrated how it would work on motorcycles.

Riders will hear two warning beeps if they stray over the limit. When they reach 5mph over the limit their seat will vibrate. If they don't slow down the system will retard the throttle to slow the motorcycle down until it is at or below the speed limit.

The system can also be used in cars and there is speculation the system is the first step in government plans to force car makers to fit variable limiters. It was developed at the Motor Industry Research Association with funding from the Department for Transport.

Motoring organizations have warned that the system could hinder drivers trying to accelerate out of danger. A DfT spokesman said there were no plans to make the device compulsory in the UK.

There are reports that the Ford Motor Company is trying to sell Jaguar and Land Rover as a package. The US car giant would probably seek to retain a minority shareholding in the company, suggesting that the plan is to find a financial group rather than another car company to buy the business. Thus if the company could be turned around and made successful Ford could reacquire the business at a later date. There have been talks with car companies seeking a luxury brand, notably Renault. Hyundai has declined.

Peugeot's type 908 diesel-powered Le Mans car was unveiled at the Paris Motor Show on October 1. Peugeot Sport will have a staff of 120 for its Le Mans program, with a budget of 100 million Euros (~$120mm) set aside to try and win Le Mans within three years. The 5.5 litre twin turbo V12 that will power a pair of Peugeot 908s at the 2007 Le Mans 24 hours is a 100 degree V12 twin turbo with a pair of Peugeot particulate filters. The initial performance figures are very impressive, with more than 700 bhp and more than 1200 Nm of torque. The 100 degree V-angle has been chosen to allow "the center of gravity of the engine to be kept as low as possible, without affecting the torsional rigidity of the package".

Trivia:

The F-1 Grand Prix of Turkey at Istanbul is run in a counterclockwise direction as are the F-1 races at Imola and Interlagos.

Favio Briatore has become one of F-1's legendary team principals. After his success with Benetton and Michael Schumacher in 1994 and 1995, he repeated the trick in 2005 with Fernando Alonso. It was even stranger as he was an Italian running a French team and all the other championships this century had been won by a Frenchman running an Italian team.

Anniversaries:

To many, October 26 1997 - exactly eight years ago - was and will remain one of the most remarkable days in F1 history. A day earlier, first, second and third on the grid for the European grand prix at Jerez - Jacques Villeneuve, Michael Schumacher and Heinz-Harald Frentzen - had posted identical times in qualifying. The real drama, though, had yet to come. In a last-ditch effort to win his first championship for Ferrari - but with an ailing red car - Schumacher deliberately turned in on Williams' Villeneuve but only found himself beached in the gravel. Canada's 26-year-old won the title, and Schumacher later found himself disqualified from the entire season. At the end of the race, the synchronized swimming began. Villeneuve, who was leading, let first Mika Hakkinen and then David Coulthard pass him. It was a McLaren one-two and 1998 and 1999 world champion Hakkinen's first of twenty wins.

Crystal Ball:

2007 - Mercedes vehicles in North America will have with Bluetec diesel technology.

Bluetec debuts in the U.S. aboard the '07 E320 sedan. In subsequent months, Mercedes plans to expand its U.S. diesel offerings with an ML320 CDI and R320 CDI, culminating in the spring with a GL320 CDI.

The vehicles are expected to benefit from the integration of AdBlue as early as 2008, in time for the '09 model year, says Bernie Glaser, Mercedes-Benz USA general manager-product management.

AdBlue converts oxides of nitrogen emissions to nitrogen and water by introducing a water-based urea solution to Bluetec's advanced after-treatment system. The system combines exhaust gas re-circulation with an oxidizing catalyst and particulate filter.

The addition of AdBlue would make Mercedes diesels Federal Bin 5 compliant and saleable in all 50 U.S. states, but first must be approved by the Environmental Protection Agency before it can be introduced. The urea-based solution must be replenished to achieve the desired results.

Mercedes officials anticipate this will be done at regular service intervals. (HAH), 2007 - BMW's upcoming X5 boasts a new six-speed automatic gearbox and BMW's adaptive drive system, which uses hydraulic anti-roll bars to improve handling.

See you at the races!

SCCA, Great Race Announce Partnership to Expand Rally Competitions

TOPEKA, Kan. (Sept. 12, 2006) – Sports Car Club of America (SCCA) and Rally Partners, Inc., organizers of Great Race motorsports event, announced today that they would jointly develop and promote automotive competitions in the United States. The exponential growth of the collector car hobby has fueled the demand for motorsports events created and sanctioned by both organizations.

As part of the alliance, SCCA will add a Great Race class to selected RoadRally events on its schedule, to introduce Great Race’s challenging style of competition and vehicles to SCCA members. Through Great Race events, Rally Partners will introduce SCCA sanctioned events to its racers to provide a broader array of competition opportunities.

“We can't think of a more natural partnership than this one with SCCA, the organization synonymous with grassroots motorsports competition in the U.S.,” said Bill Ewing, Rally Partners CEO. “Being able to compete in SCCA events and Great Race events expands the market reach for both of us, attracting new enthusiasts.”

According to Pego Mack, SCCA Rally Manager, this partnership creates opportunities far beyond the ability to share motorsports sanctioning opportunities.

"Motorsports competition is experiencing tremendous growth, particularly in the sport of rallying and this is a wonderful opportunity to reach even more participants," Mack said. "We think Great Race is the ideal partner to further expand the sport of rallying."

ABOUT RALLY PARTNERS, INC.

For 24 years, the Great Race has delivered family entertainment and community events in more than 900 cities in North America. Rally Partners, Inc., the event organizers, is focused on bringing experiential automotive events to consumers both nationally and internationally through Great Race events. Jack Roush, one of NASCAR’s leading team owners and Corky Coker, CEO of Coker Tire are two members of the Rally Partners organization. For more information, visit www.greatrace.com.

ABOUT SCCA, INC.

IRL's plans might include Daytona race

By Curt Cavin curt.cavin@indystar.com

Indy-car racing at Daytona International Speedway no longer sounds like a far-fetched idea, Indy Racing League president Brian Barnhart said Tuesday.

In fact, Barnhart said during a national teleconference that next week's compatibility test at NASCAR's home in Daytona Beach, Fla., could be a preview of a race to come.

Previously, league officials insisted that Daytona only would be used as a preseason testing venue.

"We've got to take steps first," Barnhart said of the test. "But the goal should be to race down there sometime in the future."

Indy cars last raced at Daytona in 1959, the track's first season. But the Indy-cars were too fast for the high-banked oval, and two drivers were killed.

Marshall Teague died when his car flipped during a testing accident. George Amick's fatal crash came in the U.S. Auto Club's only points-paying race, a 100-mile (40-lap) event.

This time, the Indy-cars will use the circuit's road course that uses about half of the famed oval track. A speed-slowing chicane will be in place at the end of the backstretch. The Indy-car drivers will go through the oval track's third and fourth turns, then turn onto the infield prior to reaching the first turn. The return to the oval track will be at the exit of turn two.

The test is next Tuesday and Wednesday. Barring any difficulties, Barnhart said the IRL will return for testing in the spring. The earliest a race could be held at Daytona is 2008.

As for the 2007 schedule, Barnhart indicated there will be a race Aug. 5, the date expected to be available in Montreal. If a deal is reached, it would be the IRL’s first Canadian event.

Nine of what Barnhart expects to be 16 or 17 events have been confirmed. The full schedule is expected next week. The Indianapolis 500 is May 27.
